Newest political party to open 4th branch

Victoria's newest political party is set to open its fourth branch, just three months after obtaining party registration.

Country Alliance spokesperson, Russell Pearson, says that its fourth branch will open in Horsham early next month. Country Alliance's other branches are at Healesville, Bendigo and Geelong.

"We've been flat out keeping up with enquiries and are looking at opening branches where they are most needed," he said.

Mr Pearson also said that the party will start its selection of candidates to contest next year's state election, early next year.
